

Summer Festival Days

June 27: Festival Keynotes and Inspiration

5:15 p.m. – 6:15 p.m. PST

OPEN-MIC EVENT: DimeStories Live Hosted by Carrie Danielson

San Diego DimeStories is excited to join the San Diego Writers Festival. DimeStories are three-minute prose stories read by the author. All genres welcome as well as all ages and experience levels. DimeStories is for the pure enjoyment of the written word, no comments, no critique—we are here to support and applaud.

ABOUT DIMESTORIES LIVE SAN DIEGO

For the last fifteen years, DimeStories San Diego has worked to provide as many opportunities as it can for authors of tiny tales to read their stories to a live audience. If you fear rejection but want to hear applause, this open mic is for you. All stories will be recorded, and some will be selected by the curators to be posted on the DimeStories and San Diego Writers Festival websites so that you can amaze and delight your mother.

CARRIE DANIELSON

Carrie Danielson's first career was acting. A native of Colorado, she studied at the University of Colorado in Boulder and then at Neighborhood Playhouse in New York. Four children later, she became an English teacher and taught in the public schools in Chula Vista, California. Now retired, she has time to devote to her lifelong desire to write. Her work has been published in Sun Magazine, San Diego Poetry Annual, and A Year In Ink. She organizes Dime Stories, a monthly event for presentations of 3-minute prose. Carrie was selected to edit Volume 13 of San Diego Writers, Ink's A Year In Ink. www.justcarrie.blog

---

Thank you to our generous sponsor

